INTRODUCTION

This book provides details of some 1120 Heberle with ancestors who lived in Clausthal-Zellerfeld, Germany and belong to the CZ branch of the Heberle family. This includes anyone who has used the name at any time in their life. There are possibly a further 700+ Heberle with ancestors from Clausthal-Zellerfeld, mainly German Heberle born in the last 100 years, for which personal details are confidential. Unnamed babies (died at birth or soon after) not included.

This booklet has been typed in English. As such, umlauts (German) and graves (French) are difficult to type. Most Heberle have an umlaut (¨) over the a = (ä) (this is often typed as ae in English) and many French Heberle have graves(l) over one or both e's = (é). In general, umlauts and graves have not been used, except where computer translated. The German sections in this book (in Italic) have been computer translated from English (apologies for the poor German).

EINFÜHRUNG

Dieses Buch versorgt Details einigen 1120 Heberle mit Vorfahren, die haben gelebt in Clausthal-Zellerfeld und der CZ Zweig der Heberle Familie gehört. Dies schließt irgendjemanden mitein, der den Namen jederzeit in ihrem Leben benutzt hat. Es gibt vielleicht eine weiteren 700+ Heberle mit Vorfahren von Clausthal-Zellerfeld, hauptsächlich deutsch Heberle geboren, für welche persönlichen Details vertraulich in den letzten 100 Jahren sind. Namenlose Babys (an Geburt ist oder nach bald gestorben) nicht miteingeschlossen. Diese Druckschrift ist auf englisch getippt worden. Als solch, umlauts (Deutsch) und Gräber (Französisch) sind schwierig zu tippen. Der meist Heberle hat einen umlaut (") über dem einem a = (ä) (dies wird während ae auf englisch oft getippt) und vieler französisch Heberles hat Gräber (/) über Ein oder beides e's = (é). Im allgemeinen sind umlauts und Gräber nicht benutzt worden, außer wo Computer übersetzt hat. Die deutschen Abschnitte in diesem Buch (In Kursiv) sind computer übersetzt von Englisch (Entschuldigungen für das arme Deutsch) gewesen.

ORIGIN OF HEBERLE NAME

There are numerous surnames spelt similarly to Heberle, including Häberle, Haberle and Haerberle. Many surnames have different spellings. Some family members changed the spelling or pronunciation of their surname, eg by adding an e or deleting the umlaut or graves, due to change of language. In past times, carelessness and a high degree of illiteracy (many people could not spell their names) compounded the number of ways a name was spelt. Often government officials spelt the name the way it sounded to them. As a result, surnames were often spelt differently on various documents.

The origin of the name Heberle is uncertain. In some places it was in use in 1550, before which church books (of births, deaths and marriages) are not available for most places.

- It may be occupational in origin, associated with the Germans and Jews, meaning “one who grew or dealt in oats”, from the early German word “Haber” for oats (Hanks & Hodges 1988).
- It is possible that Heberle comes from “Eber”, which is wild boar in German (Gonzalez 2001).
- It could be derived from “Heber” which is a loader or carrier (Jones 1990).
- According to Heintze & Cascorbi (1933), Hattu/Hadu, which is war in gothic, developed into Hadaperth, Habbert, Habert, Hebert, Heberling, Heberle and other names.
- It is possible that Heberle has more than one origin and all of the above may apply.

In a few places the name Heberle was in use in 1550 but many of the branches had ancestors recorded with other surnames. Family tree data shows that some Heberles had ancestors with names such as Heberlin, Häberlin, Häberle, Heberlein, Eberle, Heberlig, Haberling. The most common recorded ancestor is Heberlin (c35% of the branches before 1700) but its possible that Heberlin is latin for Heberle. Many early church books were in latin. There is evidence that some Heberle evolved from names such as Epperlein, Eberlini, Eberlein, Eberlinus, Hepperle.

Family tree data shows that a number of names evolved from Heberle, including Häberle, Haberle, Heberly, Haberty, Heverly, Haverly, Hebrlee, Heberling, Haberl, Heberl, in some places. In other places these names could have evolved from other names, such as Haber, Haver, Heber.

Names such as Heberlee, Heberlie, Heberley, Habberley, Hebley, Heaberle, Haberley, Heberly, Haberty, Heverly, Haverly, Hebrlee as found in Great Britain, USA, Australia and New Zealand may be anglicised versions of Heberle/ Häberle/Haberle.

There are a number of Haber/Heber/Eber type names, which may not be closely related to Heberle. These include Aberle, Eberhart, Heberhart, Epple, Eple, Haberer, Haberar, Haberma, Haberman, Habermann, Havermann. Hebert is a common name, perhaps originating from France and probably not closely related to Heberle (may be related to Herbert). The same can be said of Ebert. Some of the Heber and Huber are British or Jewish origin and not related to Heberle.

URSPRUNG VON HEBERLE NAMEN

Es gibt zahlreiche Familiennamen mit Schreibweisen, die Heberle ähneln, Einschließlich Häberle, Haberle und Haerberle. Viele Familiennamen schreiben sich unterschiedlich. Aufgrund eines Sprachenwechsels haben manche Familienmitglieder die Schreibweise oder Betonung ihres Familiennamens durch Hinzufügen des Buchstaben e oder Weglassen des Umlauts oder Akzents geändert. In der Vergangenheit haben auch Nachlässigkeit und eine hohe Analphabetenrate (viele Menschen konnten nicht ihre Namen schreiben) zu den vielen unterschiedlichen Schreibweisen beigetragen. In vielen Fällen zeichneten Beamte die Namen nach Gehör auf. Infolgedessen wurden Familiennamen in verschiedenen Dokumenten oftmals unterschiedlich geschrieben.

Der Ursprung des Heberle Namens ist ungewiss. An manchen Orten kam er bereits im Jahr 1550 vor, allerdings sind vor diesem Zeitpunkt für die meisten Orte keine Kirchenbücher erhältlich.

- Möglicherweise leitet sich der Name vom Berufsstand ab und hängt mit den Deutschen zusammen, wo er nach dem frühen Wort für Hafer „jemanden, der Hafer anbaute oder mit diesem handelte“ bezeichnete (Hanks & Hodges 1988).
- Es ist auch möglich, dass der Name Heberle seinen Ursprung in der Bezeichnung “Eber”, bzw. Wildschwein, hat (Gonzalez 2001).
- Er könnte von dem Wort “Heber”, einem Lade- oder Tragegerät, abgeleitet sein (Jones 1990).
- Nach Heintze & Cascorbi (1933), Hattu/Hadu, was im Gotischen Krieg bedeutet, entwickelten sich daraus Heberle und andere Namen.
- Es ist möglich, dass Heberle mehrere Ursprünge hat und es könnten alle obengenannten zutreffen.

An einigen Orten wurde der Name Heberle bereits im Jahr 1550 gebraucht, aber zahlreiche Familienzweige hatten Ahnen, die unter anderen Familiennamen aufgezeichnet wurden. Es geht aus vorhandenen Daten hervor, dass einige der Heberles Ahnen hatten, die Namen wie Heberlin, Häberlin, Häberle, Heberlein, Eberle, Heberlig, Haberling trugen. Der am häufigsten aufgezeichnete Ahne ist Heberlin (circa 35 % der Familienzweige <1700), wobei es allerdings möglich ist, dass es sich bei Heberlin um das lateinische Wort für Heberle handelt. Viele frühzeitliche Kirchenbücher waren in lateinischer Sprache. Es gibt erwiesene Hinweise, dass Heberle aus Namen wie Epperlein, Eberlini, Ebrlein, Eberlinus, Hepperle entstanden ist.

Daten zufolge sind aus Heberle eine Reihe von Namen, darunter Häberle, Haberle, Heberly, Haberly, Heverly, Haverly, Hebrlee, Heberling, Haberl, Heberl, entstanden. Diese Namen könnten allerdings ebenso von anderen Namen, wie beispielsweise Haber, Haver, Heber abgeleitet sein.

Namen wie Heberlee, Heberlie, Heberley, Habberley, Hebley, Heaberle, Haberley, Heberly, Haberly, Heverly, Haverly, Hebrlee sind möglicherweise anglisierte Versionen von Heberle/Häberle/Haberle.

Es gibt eine Reihe von Namen des Typus Haber/Heber/Eber, die möglicherweise nicht eng mit Heberle verwandt sind. Zu diesen zählt Aberle, Eberhart, Heberhart, Epplle, Eple, Haberer, Haberar, Haberma, Haberman, Habermann, Havermann. Hebert ist ein gebräuchlicher Name, der vielleicht aus Frankreich stammt und wahrscheinlich nicht eng mit Heberle verwandt ist (jedoch mit Herbert verwandt sein könnte). Dasselbe lässt sich über den Namen Ebert sagen. Einige der Heber und Huber sind britischer oder jüdischer Herkunft und nicht miteinander verwandt.

CLAUSTHAL-ZELLERFELD BRANCH OF HEBERLE FAMILY/ CLAUSTHAL-ZELLERFELD ZWEIG VON HEBERLE FAMILIE

This book provides details of c1120 Heberle with ancestors who lived in Clausthal-Zellerfeld. Ancestors possibly came from the Meissen Erzgebirge mining area near Dresden, in the central-east of Germany, between c1520 and c1580 (C Heberle 1935). Some initially used the name Heberlein. Some Heberle/Heberlein lived near Schwarzenberg (90km SW of Dresden) in the 1500s. Based on the family tree, the numbers of Heberle in the Clausthal-Zellerfeld area since 1600 may have been of the following order.

Dieses Buch versorgt Details von c1100 Heberle mit Vorfahren, die in Clausthal-Zellerfeld gelebt haben. HISTORY, GEOGRAPHY AND CLIMATE OF CLAUSTHAL-ZELLERFELD REGION TOWNS

CLAUSTHAL-ZELLERFELD 38678 51'48"N latitude, 10'20"E longitude

Twin towns in the SE of Lower Saxony State of Germany, in the W part of the Harz mountains, c20 km from the former East German border, 80km SSE of Hannover, 40km NE of Gottingen. Zellerfeld was founded in 1532, Clausthal in 1554. Altitude is 534-600m above sea level. Population 16000 (1985). Religion 85% evangelist (protestant). Clausthal-Zellerfeld was the main mining centre of the upper Harz area, until the last mine closed in 1931. Underground mining of silver, copper, zinc and lead ores commenced c1532. Clausthal-Zellerfeld has a Technical University, including a school of mines (founded 1769). There were 1000 students enrolled at the university in 1965 and 3500 in 1995. Many of the students are from outside Germany. One of the world's largest collections of minerals is held in the university. The town is a tourism (winter sports) and forestry centre. Manufactures include textiles and wood products. The market church (Marktkirche) has a seating capacity of 2200 and is Germany's largest wooden church.

ALTENAU 38707

Located 8km E of CZ. Population 3000 (2005). Altitude 420-560m.

HAHNENKLEE

Located 7km N of CZ. Mining commenced by 1569. Population 1300 (2005). Now tourist town, with over 100000 visitors per year.

LAUTENTHAL

Located 8km NNW of CZ. Mining commenced c1227 and ceased 1957. Silver smelters continued until 1967. Has a mining museum, including a train into a mine.

LERBACH

WILDEMANN 38709

Located 4km NW of CZ. Population 1400 (2005). Altitude 380-615m. Old mining town. Parts of one mine can be visited by tourists.

GOSLAR

Goslar is 12km NNE of CZ, founded in 922. At the northern foot of the Harz Mountains, it became a residence of the early Holy Roman emperors. There is also a town called Hahndorf c10 km N of Goslar, which possibly gave its name to the Hahndorf near Adelaide, South Australia, where many early German migrants settled. Rammelsberg mine just S of the city, produced silver, lead, copper, zinc and small quantities of gold, from 968 until its closure in 1988. A mining museum was established at the mine site in 1989. Other mines in the area date from the 1st century. For the smelting of the ores, large quantities of wood were required from the forests in the area. The deciduous hardwoods native to the area were converted to charcoal and replaced by fast growing fir (softwood). The Reichstag (legislative assembly) met in Goslar in the 11th and 12th centuries. The city was undamaged in World War II, because of its historical importance. Parts of the old city walls remain, including 16th century towers. There are stone and half timbered buildings from the 13-16th centuries. The Imperial Palace (c1040) Kaiserpfalz, restored late 19th century, is still standing. The cathedral (c1050) was demolished 1819 but medieval monastery and parish churches remain, including the 12th century Market Church. There is a State Archive and museums of natural science, art, history, hunting and forestry. Goslar is an important tourist base for the Harz Mountains. There is a large clothing factory and chemical plants. Population 52000 (1983). Religion 67% evangelist (protestant).

GEOLOGY

The central plateau of the Harz mountains averages 600m elevation and features deep cut ravines at its borders. The formation of the mountains began some 400 million years ago in the Silurian period. The Harz area was then a shallow sea, which accumulated sediment, which over millions of years sunk some 5000-6000m, was heated and melted. Folding took place some 300 million years ago. Granites and ores containing lead, zinc, copper etc developed during a number of cycles of erosion, sedimentation and orogenesis. Glaciation occurred in the area some 15000 years ago. Limestone caves are found in a number of locations, including at Bad Grund c10 km W of Clausthal-Zellerfeld.

CLIMATE

The climate of the Harz is very severe. Clausthal-Zellerfeld is some 200 km inland from the North Sea, at c52 degrees latitude, the latitude of the S part of Hudson Bay in Canada, Falkland Islands off South America, or 1000 km S of Tasmania, Australia. The highest peak in the Harz (Brocken is c1142 m, c20 km E of CZ) has an average temperature of 2.6 degrees C, the same as Iceland. CZ is at a lower elevation and considerably warmer, but the winters are long and rich in snow. Snow falls some 60 days per year in CZ.

MINING AND PROCESSING

Elements of interest included silver, lead, copper and zinc. Silver was primarily extracted from Galena (PbS). The silver content of Galena rarely exceeds 0.5%. There are 100s of mine shafts in the CZ region. The surface installations of one shaft have been preserved. This is the Ottiliae shaft, which is a branch of the mining museum. This branch is open on weekends during the tourist season (May-October). Tourists can ride on an old mine train between this shaft and the former railway station. CZ mines utilised ore from depths of up to c1000m. Before the development of water wheels, hand operated and horse powered winches were used to move ore and water. Later, steam engines were used. Later still electric power was introduced. Near CZ there are slag heaps from mining and processing. Some contain heavy metals and are poorly vegetated.

WATER

The mines required water power (water wheels) and a system of reservoirs and canals was developed from the 16th century on. There are 66 ponds, constructed by the miners, near CZ. The water wheels, some 12m in diameter, drove machines for transporting ore to the surface, pumped water out of the mines, drove crushers and mills. There are hydro-electric power stations in the area.

TOURISM

The Harz national park of c22000 ha was created in c1990. It includes the high country around Brocken (1142m). The Harz has long been used for recreation. The high Harz area around Brocken attracts some 3000000 visitors/year. Ski resorts include Braunlage c20 km SE of Clausthal-Zellerfeld. There is a Harz narrow gauge railway network, used by tourists.

Tourist spots in Zellerfeld include:

- St Salvatoris Church (Lutheran) 1672. Goslarsche Strasse.
- Fratznapotheke pharmacy 1674. Bornhardstrasse 12.
- Mining museum 1892. Bornhardstrasse 16.
- Chimes with moving characters. Thomas-Merten-Platz 1.
- Dietzelhaus tourist information centre 1673. Bergstrasse 31.
- Library in former railway station. Bahnhofstrasse.

Tourist spots in Clausthal include:

- Market church (Lutheran) 1642. An der Marktkirche, near Adolph-Roemer-Strasse.
- Town hall 1730. An der Marktkirche 8.
- Office of the President of the mining administration, Oberbergamt. An der Marktkirche 9.
- Technical University entrance building 1903, including mineral museum. Adolph-Roemer-Strasse 2.
- Robert Koch birthplace 1843. Osteroder Str 13.
- Ottiliae shaft 1876. Off Sorge Strasse.
- Kaiser Wilhelm II shaft, waterworks. Erzstrasse 24.

SOCIAL AND POLITICAL

In contrast to inhabitants of most rural towns, residents of proclaimed mountain towns had mountain freedoms, which included ability to hold free markets, elect judges and town council and not required to do military service. Clausthal qualified for mountain freedoms in 1554.

ACCESS

CZ is not easy to access by public transport, as it is not on the railway network. From Frankfurt airport, it required 3 trains and 3 buses, via Northeim. Via Goslar required 1 bus and 4 trains. On weekends there are many fewer trains and buses than Monday to Friday.
