

Murch, Jon (based mainly on FPC website)

Jon Murch was involved in the management of forest resources in Western Australia for nearly 30 years and has specialist experience in managing native forest and plantation contracts and the selling of timber products. He holds a Bachelor of Science (Hons) in Forestry, specialising in harvest management and the selection of harvesting systems. Before joining the Forest Products Commission, he was a regional leader in CALM and CALM Manager Timber Production/Timber Supply (early 1990s) and Manager State Forest Resources Business Unit (late 1990s). Retired from FPC in 2000s.